

A Team Built for You

At SilverStone Group, we understand that the construction industry is complex, competitive and demanding. We also know that managing risk and putting together insurance programs for contractors is serious business. That is why we have built a team of insurance professionals who have dedicated their careers to understanding these risks and developing insurance programs specifically for contractors. Our Construction division professionals have hands-on experience with contractors and can assist in managing risks that are unique to this industry. We understand this position places a high degree of responsibility on us, and it's a challenge we welcome.

Partnering with the Best

Specializing in this industry has helped us attract the leading construction insurance providers. Our underwriting teams are aware of our skills and expertise, and seek to write our accounts. The relationships we've established with underwriters rest on many years of mutual trust and credibility, which enables us to aggressively negotiate our clients' insurance programs.

Our Construction Team's main goal is to be a trusted and competent partner for our clients. We make it our priority to understand the specific risks faced by each client so we may provide the most competitive and comprehensive insurance program available. Our specialized services and resources for contractors include:

- Experienced loss control services to assist our clients in providing a safe and productive worksite.
- Claims management professionals who possess multiple years of experience and are true advocates for our clients when we are needed most – at the time of a claim.
- In-depth understanding of exposures that contractors encounter and the insurance coverages needed.
- Extensive experience in reviewing and consulting with clients on contracts and contractual risk management techniques.

Our Construction Team is dedicated to the highest level of customer service, and we proudly stand as a leader in this industry. We have the knowledge and resources to successfully address the risks and exposures that are unique to this area – and this is all backed by an unparalleled commitment to our clients. When searching for the best, most capable risk management partner, the search should end with us.

Bob Lembke | Bob's best "out-of-office" days are spent riding his Harley. He may like living on the edge outside of work, but don't let that fool you – for more than 30 years Bob has helped manage construction risks for our clients.